

JEFFREY N. GIBBS

Jeffrey N. Gibbs is a director in the Washington, D.C. law firm of Hyman, Phelps & McNamara, P.C. Before entering private practice, he was Associate Chief Counsel for Enforcement at the Food and Drug Administration. Jeff also served as a Special Assistant United States Attorney in the District of Columbia in the Civil Division.

Jeff assists in vitro diagnostic and medical device companies with a variety of regulatory issues, including FDA product approval, product labeling, clinical studies, promotional and marketing programs, FDA enforcement actions, and product liability counseling. He has written extensively on FDA issues, including those involving diagnostic products, and has advised IVD companies on a wide range of regulatory issues. He is a member of the editorial advisory board of In Vitro Diagnostic Technology, and is General Counsel of the Food and Drug Law Institute.

Jeff graduated from Princeton University and New York University School of Law.